GREEK TERRACOTTA FROM THE WEST COAST TO THE EAST

Today Brent is hard at work at this particular  location at Fifth Avenue and East 45th St in Manhattan. This new Tommy Bahama store will be open on November 17th and includes a restaurant and a bar! Brent met the shipment of 28 of our Greek terracotta pots (custom finished, I might add) in New York City and unpacked and helped place them. A sore back notwithstanding, Brent and the rest of us are proud and excited to have such a presence at such a great location in New York. At Eye of the Day we find more and more of our clients throughout the country are coming to us through our website and we are shipping far beyond our California locations.
